Litigation Support Services

Expert assistance for organizations facing an ADA or digital accessibility-related lawsuit, demand letter, or other legal complaint involving an organization's website or mobile application.

The number of website and mobile accessibility related lawsuits continues to rise, with deadlines looming to meet legal compliance requirements. If your organization is facing legal action, Allyant's Accessibility Claims Team will provide accessibility expertise, helping your legal counsel address those claims.

Rebuttal report preparation to defend or rebut inaccurate claims of nonconformance against your website or mobile application based on expert review from senior engineers including individuals with disabilities.

Affidavit support outlining detailed accessibility measures taken for ongoing compliance and demonstration of reasonable steps, in alignment with global regulations.

Strategic litigation support through expert guidance to reduce future legal exposure and drive more favorable outcomes, including case dismissal or significantly reduced settlement costs.

Accessibility Subject Matter Expertise.

Our Accessibility Claims Team specializes in helping organizations respond to accessibility cases and is deeply knowledgeable in the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) and compliance requirements of the ADA, EAA, AODA, HHS, and others.

Team members closely follow the latest developments in U.S. case law, and actively participate in rulemaking processes, including the latest DOJ and HHS rules.

Trusted Five-Step Process.

1

Review

Our Accessibility Claims Team reviews the validity of alleged claims in the legal complaint.

2

Research

We identify the assistive technology, device, and browser configuration used by the plaintiff.

3

Replicate

Our blind and low-vision screen reader engineers review whether claims are WCAG requirements, test whether they can be replicated, and determine if they actually block a use.

4

Rebut

We provide a Rebuttal Report and, in some cases, screen reader recordings validating usability.

5

Record

Our testers can provide signed declarations attesting to their findings, supporting your legal team in its response.
